

Coming soon from
NW Natural and Energy Trust

A new way to help
lower energy bills
and save money.

Soon, you will...

- ✓ See how much energy each gas appliance uses.
- ✓ Know when your home uses the most energy.
- ✓ Get custom savings tips based on your appliances.

Flip for more about your new energy-saving tool.

In the next few weeks, you can expect to see new kinds of information from NW Natural and Energy Trust.

It is all designed to help lower energy bills, quickly.

The big picture

Soon, you will receive a personalized energy report showing how much energy is used in your home, and where it's being used the most.

Monthly suggestions

Every month, we will send insights about your home's energy performance and custom energy-saving tips.

Everything in one place

In one dashboard, you can see how your energy use and bills compare from one month to the next, and how they compare to others.

We are excited to send these new resources to you. Stay tuned!
